Wife of James R. Barrow and mother of John William (J.W.) Barrow (my grandfather.)

Tribute of Respect.

Died at his residence in Bowden, Carroll county, on the 11th of June, 1880, James R. Barrow, youngest son of Elder James Barrow, who is well known throughout Georgia and Alabama as a zealous minister of the gospel of Christ.

The deceased having had the influence of a pious example thrown around him, followed that example and grew up a moral youth.

When the war broke out, though a mere school-boy, he volunteered to do what he could in the defence of his country, and in one of the terrible conflicts of fraternal strife, he lost a leg. He was not only a soldier to stand in his country's defence, but what is far better, he possessed that principle which the evils of war can never tarnish. He was a good soldier of the Cross, having, by the grace of God, volunteered in early life in the service of the Great King. Having united his destiny with the sect that is everywhere spoken against. After the war he returned home, married Miss Mattie Holmes and engaged in business and, by his untiring energy, industry, economy and close application, with the blessings of a kind Providence, he became a successful merchant.

Heaven smiled upon him in lavishing her temporal blessings, yet he was all the while a patient sufferer, and has been the subject of great and severe trial. Death visited his quiet home and took off his bosom companion; then his aged mother upon whom he doted with filial affection, was accidentally caught on fire and burned to death. A few years later the messenger returned and bore away little Georgia, his affectionate daughter. All this, together with his own bodily affliction, he bore with Christian resignation. And now God, in his inscrutable providence, has taken brother Barrow from his suffering, trials, labors of patience and devotion, we trust, to his home of eternal enjoyment. Only one of that quiet, happy family is left—poor little Willie. Who is it that will not shed a tear of sympathy for the little orphan child and pray that God may hover over him by his spirit, and, indeed, take him up and guide him in the way of eternal life. And, whereas, it hath pleased God to take away our beloved brother by the hand of death.

Resolved, That we tender his aged father, brother and sisters, and his little boy our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement, and pray that God may comfort them and lead them by his Spirit.

Resolved, That this tribute of respect to our departed brother be spread upon the minutes of our church book and be published in THE CHRISTIAN INDEX.

Done by the church in conference, June 19th, 1880.

John H. Word<sup>53</sup>

John H. Word, merchant, Bowdon, Carroll County, Georgia, son of John Bryson and Amelia (Sparks) Word, was born in Carroll County in 1836. His father came to Georgia when a young man and settled in Franklin and was one of the first school teachers in Heard County, where he taught for several years. Students came as many as seven miles to his school. He moved to Carroll County, Georgia, in 1836, where he settled on a farm and soon rose to considerable prominence. He was elected the justice of the inferior court and the justice of the peace. For many years he was deacon in the Baptist Church.

John H. Word was reared on his father's farm and made this his home until he married. In 1861, while a student at Bowdon College, he enlisted in Company B (commanded by Captain Charles A. McDaniel) of Cobb's Legion and participated in many hard-fought battles, among them being Dam No. 1, Yorktown, Seven Days' fight around Richmond, and Malvern Hill. He went to Maryland but was too late for the second battle of Manassas. He was at the battle of South Mountain, September 14, 1862, where he lost his left leg, a month elapsing before it was amputated, and was taken prisoner in this condition. Only four of his company escaped death or wounds. Following an attack of smallpox, he was struck by lightning and had to submit to a second amputation. In 1863 he returned home to Bowdon, Georgia. He immediately went into the general merchandising business in Bowdon but some Federal troops came by and broke him up. In 1863 he was elected Clerk of the Superior Court and served for two years and was made a notary public and filled that office in Bowdon for six years. In 1884 he was elected to represent Carroll County in the General Assembly of Georgia. In 1893 he was elected county commissioner of Carroll County and took an active part in the building of the new courthouse.

In 1866 he was married to Miss Virginia Colquitt, daughter of William and Ann (Stringer) Colquitt. Her father was a soldier in the Confederate Army and part of the time a guard at the Andersonville prison. When they began keeping house, they were in a destitute condition, but by hard work, honest living, and good management, they became prosperous. They were devout members of the Baptist Church, and were always liberal contributors to all worthy causes.

John H. Word was a trustee of Bowdon College for more than thirty years and treasurer of the board for ten years. Like the Colquitts, he was a liberal contributor to all worthy causes but more especially when the needs of Bowdon College were concerned. He never turned a deaf ear to its needs. He lived to a ripe old age and is buried beside his wife in the Bowdon Cemetery.

THREE BARROW BROTHERS
Civil War information

James R. was the youngest son of Rev. James Barrow.
Was 17 years old when he enlisted.

JAMES R. BARROW - Born 3 Oct. 1844 at Bowdon, Carroll County, Ga. was the <sup>first</sup> ~~third~~ of these three Barrow brothers to enlist in the CSA.

He volunteered for service in Cobb's Legion, Georgia Volunteers at Bowdon, Carroll County, Georgia on 30 July 1861<sup>1861</sup>, "for the period of war" and was assigned, as a private, to Co. B of Cobb's Legion, Infantry Battallion. (the same Co. his brother William H. C. was in).
His Civil War records are scant, as most of them are, but they do show that he was wounded at the battle of South Mountain (or <sup>Crampton's</sup> ~~Crampton's~~ (?) Gap), Md. on 14 Sept. 1862. "He was wounded in the foot and <sup>left</sup> ~~ankle~~ and same was amputated below the knee".

The following are "cards" in his Civil War record at Georgia Archives, Atlanta, Ga.:

1. Not dated. Admitted to Field Hospital, Burkettsville, Md. -(6th Army Corp).
Complaint - Wounded, Leg Amputated.
2. Admitted Nov 16, 1862 to: Camp A. U S A Gen. Hosp., Frederick, Md.
Sent to Gen. Hosp. Balt. Md. Nov. 28, 1862
3. Roll of prisoners of war at Fort McHenry, Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1862.
J. R. Barrow - Pvt. Co. B. 1st Reg. Cobbs Legion. Captured South Mt. Md. 14 Sept. 1862.
4. Muster Roll card (not dated) Remarks: Wounded and now in Maryland.
5. Register of Gen. Hosp. Pettersburg, Va.: Complaint - Foot and leg amputated - admitted
Dec 4, 1862. Furloughed 90 days, Dec. 19, 1862. - Remarks; Paroled Prisoner.
6. Not dated. Register of Payments; For March 1, 1863 to Aug 31, 1863. $75.58 paid 30,
Oct. 1863. Remarks: Clothing fund.
7. Muster Roll Card dated 1 Jan. 1864. Remarks; On furlough, Leg amputated.
8. Dated 22 April 1864. Paid for 1 Sept. 1863 to 21 Feb. 1864.- Pay $66.00, Clothing
$134.13 - Total paid $200.13. This was received by and signed for, at Atlanta, Ga.
21 April, 1864. He signed his name Jas. R. Barrow.
9. Muster Roll card dated 19 Dec. 1864. Remarks: Wounded & on furlough, Leg amputated.

James R. Barrow ~~probably~~ was wounded and captured in the battle for <sup>Crampton's Gap</sup> ~~Harpers Ferry~~, Md.
when General Lee invaded Maryland in Sept. 1862 and again confronted Union General McClellan who, by a stroke of luck, had a copy of Lee's orders to his commanding officers which had been found by a Union soldier wrapped around three cigars at an abandoned Confederate campsite on 13 Sept. 1862. This battle, along with Sharpsburg, Md. was one of the bloodiest of the war. 11,500 Union and 9,000 Confederate soldiers were killed or wounded in this battle.

James must have been one of the "lucky" wounded because, from all indications, he was well cared for at the Union hospital's he was in before being "paroled" to the Confederate Gen. Hospital at Pettersburg, Va., arriving there 4 Dec. 1862, which was about 2½ month's after his leg was amputated.

Just when or how he got from the hospital in Pettersburg, Va. is not known. He did receive "Pay and Clothing" at Atlanta, Ga. on 21 April 1864 and this may be the time he arrived back in Georgia.

On 8 Dec. 1879, James R. Barrow, at Carrollton, Carroll County, Ga. applied for "Money to buy myself an Artifical Leg". He was given "$75.00 to buy same" on 16 Dec. 1879. (as of May 1986, it is not known by me, if he already had an artifical leg or was using crutches pryor to that time.) (HMC)

At no place, in his Civil War records, does it tell which leg was amputated and as of May 1986 I do not know which one it was. (HMC)

Cobb's Legion, Georgia Volunteers, was organized in August, 1861, as the Georgia Legion, and consisted of an infantry battalion of seven companies and a cavalry battalion of four companies. By S. O. No. 87, A. & I. G. O., dated April 10, 1863, it was directed that the infantry battalion and the cavalry battalion be separated into distinct organizations and each raised to a regiment, which order does not appear to have been carried out, except that the number of cavalry companies was increased. By S. O. No. 161, A. & I. G. O., dated July 11, 1864, the cavalry companies were directed to be designated the 9th Regiment Georgia Cavalry, but these companies appear to have continued to serve as a part of Cobb's Legion without change of designation.
