Dear Focke -

The trip home was the best ever, had a wonderful breakfast arriving in Atlanta right on time - David and Diane were there to meet me and we came straight home - Every thing in perfect Condition - Plate, eagle, wine and tomatoes - You know I said I was putting in one with a little pink on it. When I unwrapped to check them yesterday - it was ripe - I was surprised -

Found everyone gone Sunday - Bud and Jo and the girls were in C'ton at a Horse Show - Ginger rode Tiny, didn't win anything but it was good experience - Buddy said she was doing fine in a Western race when her whip got tangled in the reins and Tiny just won't move without the whip - She says she can't wait until next summer to enter, you learn something every time and she should do good next time -

Jean and John had gone to Forsyth to see Gladys, she is in the hospital in Forsyth and Jean said she looked awfully bad, I really don't know what is the matter with her, I think she just needed a little rest and attention after Bubber got well - They said he was fine -

Today is Mr. Warren Sewell's eightieth birthday and Frances and Lamar are entertaining at Ava Sewell Hall tonight at a gala affair - I am going with Leila and Mrs. Dobson - Jean is helping serving punch from 8 til 8:30 and receiving guest until 9.

Yesterday a group of ladies invited me to have lunch at "The Wagon Wheel" - Which is the best eating place we have here, Gladys Warren was down - Thursday night our Club goes to "Cross Roads" at Tallapoosa - This little town beats any thing I have ever seen to have something doing -

I went to C'ton with Jo yesterday P.M. she was going to the Dentist and I rode over to see Mabel - She had called me Sun. night and said Mona had had a stroke and was in the hospital - I didn't see Mona but they tho't she was going to make it if she doesn't have another stroke -

Ken traded Cars while I was gone he got a 1947 Ford Coupe at Walker Motor Co. It is really the cleanest Car you could hope to find - It looks like the 46 that Pop had except it has seats in the back - a Club Coupe - He is so proud of it!! Maroon color

I haven't seen Ginger and Ellen since I got home - Ellen sang in the choir Sun. night but I didn't know about it until I had undressed so missed it -

Jo said Ginger came out last night but I had gone to bed - She has her first band lesson today she got her instrument but I for- got what it is - Jo said she was all excited!

Larry ran for Councilman on a write-in ticket and was elected - Only Canvassed two days - Shirlee's Mother flew out to Dallas last week-end, she said they were fine and working hard - She had never flown before and Jean said she was so excited over the flight that she couldn't get much out of her about the children - Now she wants Jean to fly out soon -

It is cold and windy - I got home in time to save my flowers -

John and Earnest J. were happy to see me and I can't step out the door for them - Ellen's Cat was gone and Elvira hasn't been inside -

I miss you all and hope Rebecca was O.K. as she seemed to be - Better get this to the P.O.

Love to everyone and Smokey too! "Kingoo"

The First Aircraft that ever landed at Bowdon, Ga., was this Canadian Curtiss bi-plane, which settled in a cotton patch on Feb. 21, 1920. The entire community gathered to see Pilot C. W. Meyer, who for many years was a pilot for one of the major airlines, and to marvel at his wonderful ex-World War I flying machine.

Immediately After the above picture was made, Meyer took off with Bunt Hood as a passenger. Somebody ran across the field in front of the plane, so the pilot had to cut his speed and the ship stopped in this position. Nobody got hurt, but the plane ruined. Duplicate pictures were submitted by J. W. Tarpley of Hogansville, the photographer, and Mrs. H. L. Jackson, Bowdon, Ga.

Pop Barrow flew with "Charlie" Meyer - Meyer was pilot for Eastern Airlines for many years.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER

On a beautiful afternoon way back in February 1920 a big hunk of something with a motor attached began circling over a cotton field just south of Bowdon between the Lovvorn house, now Maxwell, and the present site of M & W Trucking Co on Tyus Road landed in that cotton field which turned out to be an airplane.

The writer and his brother, Willard, were walking home from town on Wedowee St. We were about half-way between what is now known as the Fuller and Daniel houses. The two of us, realizing the airplane (spelled aeroplane back then) was going to land in that cotton field. At twelve years of age the writer out ran the brother of nine. Being the first person to reach the plane with its propellar still turning the pilot raised his voice and yelled some words never heard before: "GET YOUR _____ BEFORE YOU GET KILLED".

Back then twelve year old boys were not afraid of anything. Stories of airplanes had been printed and even pictures were available of those things called airplanes so why could a boy be afraid of one landing in a cotton field.

The double-winged plane was equipped with wire-spoked wheels and pneumatic tires about the same as present-day light-weight motorcycles use. The wing-span was about twenty-five feet. The length from the propellar to the tail was about thirty feet. The fabric used to cover the wings was something like silk cloth that had been water-proofed. From the cock-pit to the tail section was very decorative being painted in black and white checker-board design.

Very soon after the plane had landed the area was covered with people gazing at and wandering

Numerous Friends Pay Tribute At Death Of Hugh Witt Barrow

BOWDON SUFFERS DISTINCT LOSS

"No funeral gloom, my dears, when I am gone.
Corpse-ga zings, tears, black raiment, graveyard grimness.
Think of me as withdrawn into the dimness, Yours still, you mine.
Remember all the best of our past moments and forget the rest,

These beautiful words of Ellen Terry are so fitting as one thinks of the life and going of Hugh W. Barrow, in whose passing the entire town and community, as well as a host of loved ones, suffered a distinct loss. Hugh, were he here to speak for himself would plead the sentiment of this beloved poet. He would want no gloom, grimness, tears or black raiment—he just wasn't like that. In spite of any discouraging, disappointing circumstances, as his pastor said, "he could take it." He did not burden those about him with any personal adversers or worries. In all of life's experiences it can be said of Hugh Barrow. He was a "lifter." Others could lean upon him, could count on him—he was happiest when he was sharing his strength and never failing support with those who were less fortunate. Even as the grim reaper was hovering over his home, even touching it, he was gathering up shoes, clothing and various articles for a needy family—doing the thing he was happiest doing.

Most of us feel we are working to extend His kingdom. We are keep quite busy with program, this and that allotted by the Church and its organizations. Hugh was not always in the front pew . . . he made no loud profession or or pretense in questions of spiritual life and living . . . yet dare any of us say we have ministered unto the least of these more or anything like as much, as this always cheerful, jovial apostle of good works? He was happiest when he could go out in the highways and byways and serve humanity—and it made no difference with Hugh of the color, race or creed.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox in her pertinent, pointed poem, "Lifting and Leaning," declares only one "lifter" to twenty who learn. Somehow he knew every needy person and family throughout the town, and far out into other sections of Carroll County.

There could hardly be a better example of "practicing Christianity" than this one whom we are proud to call neighbor—and with this application, his golden heart, his ever kindly, thoughtful life—his intense concern for the welfare of those about him, means all the word implies. Truly, he was the good Samaritan. As his neighbor for more than a quarter of a century, the writer is well able to know.

Seven times, since we have been neighbors, tragedy and death have visited us. As often as such experiences have come, the arm of sympathy was placed about us and with the love of a son the plea for the privilege to share our sorrow has come.

Feeling his inexpressable loss, one was touched to the depth as the fond old father cried, "what can I do without my Hugh boy?" Scriptures do not mislead or declare in error when He said, "him that would be greatest among you, first let him be servant of all," has rung true throughout the ages. Our greatest people are those who truly love to serve humanity. Further verifying the truth of the statement was the hundreds of grief-stricken, loving friends who came in streams to the home to view the remains of one who had so often served them and had never turned a headless ear.

Many of those who came were the colored people he had so often accommodated—among them two colored men, one from Rockmart, the other nearer by, who had worked for him, driving trucks, loading and unloading for him, who had never forgotten "Mr. Hugh's kindness to them." Attention was called to the fact that many of these friends of a race he had taught a better, kinder way of life, paid their bus fares from a distance just to look for the last time on the remains of one who had been a true friend to them.

Then there were the employees of Warren Sewell Clothing, who when they heard of his death, also thought of the many, untiring foot-steps he had made around and about the plant, for which he had a love and appreciative pride—so deeply was the feeling, the inspiration came to let their floral offering be a symbol of foot-steps. Many were those who paused to study the beautiful and impressive design of many deep red carnations covering the soles, tiny mums representing the tacks and pure white satin ribbon deftly arranged to initiate the outer seams. Hundreds stood in awe as they viewed the wonderful array works . . . work such as the Mased the walls of the porches, filled the halls from floor to ceiling . . . all given in a spirit of love and appreciation for one whose life had been devoted to good works . . . work such as the Master's life was filled with while He lived among men.

It was remarked, "Hugh has taught all of us an impressive lesson . . . practicing Christianity while most of us were only professing it." Indeed his life was demonstrative of the richness and reward spent in doing things "for the least of these." Most of his life, all except three years while he was connected with the Folds Motor Company in Carrollton and three in Rockmart with the Cummings Furniture Company, has been spent here, at his native health. Truly he was one highly honored in his own country.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Bowdon Baptist Church, of which he was a faithful member for many years. The Rev. Gordon Ezzell, pastor, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Norris and Rev. Wallace Wiggins, officiating. Mrs. Myrle Rivers was pianist, playing the beautiful old hymns during the services.

Palbearers were Lamar Punkett, Roy Davis, Lent Reeves, Jack Wright, Fos Weir and D. P. Holmes, Sr.

Bailey Funeral Home was in charge.

Hugh, who was fifty-six years of age, is survived by his wife, the former Miss Virginia Trammell, one daughter, Mrs. John Barr, Jr., two sons, Hugh Will (Billy) of Auburn, Ala., David Trammell (Buddy) of Bowdon; six grandchildren, Johnnie, Carol Ann, Gini and Robert Barr, Hugh Will (Billy) Barrow, Jr., and David Hugh (Barrow; his aged father, Mr. J. W. Barrow, of Bowdon, and two sisters, Mrs. F. M. Rumble, of Forsyth, Mrs. H. L. Jackson, of Bowdon; two brothers, W. O. Barrow, of Cedartown, Roy Barrow of Macon. A large number of relatives also survive. Among whom are an uncle and aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Lovvorn of Bowdon and Dr. Robert Lovvorn of Richland and Bowdon, brother and sister of his mother, the late Mrs. Ellen Lovvorn Barrow.

Bailey Funeral Home was in charge with interment in the city cemetery.

The sympathy of the entire town and community goes to the bereaved family, who will miss him more than mere words can express.

Community Grieves for Mrs. Virginia Barrow

BY MRS. H. M. BIRD

There's an open gate at the end of the road

Through which each must go alone,

And there in a light
we cannot see,

Our Father claims His own;

Beyond the gate your loved one

Finds happiness and rest, And there is comfort in the thought

That a loving God knows best.

Many places, as well as the hometown and throughout this community, grieve with the sorrowing family of Virginia Trammell Barrow in her passing . . . she was a greatly beloved person.

Virginia 71, passed away at Jubal Watts Memorial Hospital Thursday, August 21, 1969. She was born at Five Points, Chambers County, Alabama, May 4, 1898, the daughter of the late Appling Thomas and Leila Johnson Trammell, prominent citizens and progressive leaders in their community and native state. She was married to the late Hugh Will Barrow October 28, 1917, who preceded her in death November 10, 1950. She had lived in Bowdon 60 years.

Virginia, loved by all who knew her, lived a rich, full life.
She ate not "the bread of idleness." She actively supported every worthwhile undertaking promoted for the welfare and betterment of all mankind. She was a valued employee of Sewell Manufacturing Company, where her agreeable, congenial personality won friends and made her a favorite with all with whom she was associated.

Having mothered and cared for her own children while they were growing up, following her husband's death she accepted the position of house mother at the churches' Home for Business Girls in Atlanta

the position of house mother at
the churches' Home for Business Girls in Atlanta
here she continued to mother and serve "the girls away from home" for fourteen years, the time of her retirement at the age of 70. At the home her warm, mother heart won the love and affection of "her girls" and the entire staff.

When she left Bowdon to accept the House Mother position in Atlanta, she retained her home on College Street across the driveway from her son, whose home is the old ancestral Barrow homestead.
With the ideal retirement plans in view she came back to Bowdon in June 1968 — little more than a year ago.

The time was of short duration for she looked forward to time when she would retire and be near members of her family and associated with old friends and neighbors again, but no one could have made better use or enjoyed the year more . . . she immediately picked up where she left off.

Her church came first. She was an active member of the Bowdon Baptist Church, the Ladies' Bible Class, and W. M.
U. She as quickly entered into the program of the "As You Like It Club," of which she was a charter member. . . she held close to her family and friends through her active participation, daily association and continued interest. She cherished them all.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL

The funeral was held Saturday, August 23, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Bert Tapley, her pastor, in charge, reading Psalm 103 and Psalm 100, and special selections from "Meditations For Women," while Miss Suzanne Tapley, organist, played softly some of Virginia's favorite old hymns, including, "Rock of Ages,"

"What A Friend We Have In Jesus."

The highly spiritual moving moment came with the recessional, when the congregation sang with triumphant assurance, "O God, Our Help In Ages Past." A hymn of gratitude and faith — and the large audience sang with confidence. Blessed is the congregation that so recognizes God's goodness.

Among Virginia's mementos was a little booklet titled, "So Swift The Way! So Short The Day!" An inspirational poem by Helen Steiner Rice, which reads in part "In this fast-moving world of turmoil and tension, With problems and troubles too many to mention . . . Our days are so crowded and our hours are so few, There is So Little Time and So Much To Do. . . We are pressured and pushed until we are "dizzy." There's never a minute we're not "crazily busy" . . . And sometimes we wonder as we rush through the day — Does God Really Want Us To Hurry This Way? There is more. . . which closes with this pertinent thought: "So don't rush ahead with reckless endeavor, Remember "He Leadeth" and "Time Is Forever!"

Quoting Virginia, the pastor paused, then said: Ugh! everybody preaches their own funeral every day." Then he explained that was what Virginia had said to him. How true it is! In speaking of her, Rev. Tapley said: "Virginia had learned how to die — because she had learned how to live. A beautiful life only becomes beautiful when you know that life has had sorrow, disappointment and still holds forth faith with dignity." Continuing, the minister said:
"The older citizens of Bowdon have lost a very compassionate friend." Virginia was a member of the older age group sponsored by Rev. Tapley.

The family having requested in-lieu of flowers, contribution be made to the American Cancer Society, the impressive arrangements in the sanctuary, where the service was held, were two large white crosses — one on either side, representing the two families, and the exquisite white blanket covering the casket completed the sanctuary floral arrangements. Other flowers were used at the cemetery.
Virginia is survived by: a

I, Mrs. Virginia T. Barrow, being of sound and disposing mind and memory do make, publish and declare this my last will and testament.

My three children are Virginia Ellen Barr, Hugh W. Barrow and David T. Barrow, and I give to them all personal effects of mine of whatever character with the suggestion that they may divide the same amongst themselves so that anyone will be assured of having any article of mine that may have some sentimental or historical value to them. In the event of indecision on their part my Executrix' decision of this type of property shall be final.

Dear Sister, -

the terrible tragedy that happened to us mon-

Mamma had been so much worse Sat +

Sun + Mon - so Mon night about 6:15 Papa said he was going up town + get Dr. Piper to go down + see if he could not give Mamma something to make her rest - I ad never works in Lafayette + live at First Point -

+ comes every day + is often stopping see Mamma + Papa + especially since Mamma has been sick + does lot of errands for them

+ brings them things from Lafayette often - Hilda has a car but it won't start except by being cranked by a strong man + therefore they can use it at night nor daytime either except when they get a negro man to crank it for them -

I ad stopped by Mon night to see if he could do anything for them + Papa told him he wanted him to come over + get me to stay with them that night - he was so worried

... 2 more weeks & then go on to ...
They have been separated 4 months - This is one of the finest men we ever knew -

The man that ran over papa was a traveling man out of Aniston - a young man - he traveled for ~~Waring & Sons~~ (pickles, catchup etc) He is heavily insured and mamma is going to get several thousand dollars. we don't know just how much yet. She is very low and we will not be surprised if the end comes at any time - However ~~if she lives we want to move her up to~~ Busters - she will be so much closer to every body - they have no car & neither have we a it just seems we are miles & miles apart.

There were so many beautiful flowers

MR. AND MRS. A. T. TRAMMELL

The people of Five Points and surrounding communities were shocked and deeply grieved when just after nightfall on January 30 the dismal news swiftly spread that Mr. A. T. Trammell had been hit and instantly killed by an automobile. He had been to get the family doctor to do something to relieve the intense suffering of his invalid wife, and being in a hurry to get back to her bedside, was walking down the highway when in a few yards of his home, he was struck by an automobile and hurled into eternity. Thus he fell at the post of duty, for it was a characteristic of his, like the Christ, never to want to be ministered unto, but to minister, for his good wife had insisted that he do not go on this errand.

Of course this was a terrible shock to his sick companion. For this couple had lived together more than 48 years and were affectionately devoted to one another. She lived on rather unwillingly for 16 days longer, and then her released spirit winged its way into the unseen realm above to be, we trust, united with her departed husband in that home for the blessed where there are no heart-wrenching separations.

To the home of Mr. and Mrs. Trammell eleven children were born, ten of whom survive; seven daughters and three sons. The father and mother were very much devoted to their children, and the children loved and honored their parents. And the children as well as the in-laws ministered to Mother Trammell affectionately and faithfully during the 17 months of her last illness.

To the children and to the in-laws, to all of whom Mr. and Mrs. Trammell were devoted, and to the four brothers and the sister of Mr. Trammell, and to the one brother of Mrs. Trammell, and to the many other relatives, a host of friends extend sincere sympathy and pray that the God of all comfort will graciously bless and comfort you in this sore bereavement.

This couple were both members of our Church. They were my warm personal friends, and I as well as a multitude of others shall greatly miss their going from our midst. But we shall only say "Good night," for we hope to greet them again with a cheery "Good morning" in a brighter world above.

W. M. Treadway, Pastor.

MR. AND MRS. A. T. TRAMMELL

It would be beyond reason to expect my most inadequate vocabulary to express my feelings at this time. But I do want to try my very best.

Realizing all the time that God was kind in relieving Ma and Pa of their earthly duties at almost the same time, we cannot help feeling that an almost unbearable vacancy has come into our lives.

In the many years of their married life nothing but sincere devotion existed between the two. It was through their undaunted love for their ten children that the family has been kept closely together through these years. The departing of a child was the saddest event that ever came into the life of Ma and Pa no matter how short the parting was.

Twenty-one other grandchildren join me in saying that the happiest times of our lives have been spent at Pa's house. They were not grandparents to us, they were our Ma and Pa.

Not having the worldly goods to give to their children, they gave instead, their life of service and their big heart of love which we have found to be far more precious to us than anything else could ever have been. That great gift in the way of a blessing and an example is the one and only inheritance that every child and grandchild could carry with them throughout life. I speak of children with no mention of the in-laws because the minute that a person married into the family they immediately became "real children" in the hearts of Ma and Pa.

The numbers of Ma's and Pa's loved ones were not limited to race or class. Few can have that said about them. These two were revered, respected, admired, and loved by all who knew them.

There is no limit to what I have in my heart to say. My daily prayer shall be ever this—"God help me to do my duty—to love and serve like Ma and Pa."—Rebecca Smartt Jordan, the oldest granddaughter.

A. T. TRAMMELL

WHEREAS, Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, did on April 17, 1968, summon A. T. Trammell to his eternal home; and

WHEREAS, "Buster" Trammell, as was affectionately and widely known, distinguished himself as a long-time employee of the West Point Post Office, whose gracious and exemplary service has left an indelible mark on this community and those who

new him; and

WHEREAS, "Buster" Trammell had been a member of West Point First Methodist Church since 1947, and had faithfully served as president of his Sunday School class; as a long-time member of the commission on membership and evangelism; in his devotion to visiting prospective church members; and at the time of his death had been elected to serve as a steward on the Official Board to be effective June 1968;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Official Board of the First Methodist Church, that in the passing of A. T. Trammell, this church has lost a faithful friend whose labors for the kingdom will be sorely missed, but whose memory will sustain us.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Official Board hereby extends its sympathy to the family by a copy of this Resolution, that a copy be sent to the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, and a copy be spread upon the official minutes of this meeting.
